“ Lynne .., I was searching for anyone I might know at the upcoming reunion (September 24, 2016) in Pontiac and I'm so sorry to hear about your husband Jim passing. My wife and I live in Dunedin and I would love for you to meet her. Of all the people I knew at Pontiac Northern I admired you and your assertive personality the most. Best wishes on the remainder of your journey..., but if I can see you again I will regard it as a blessing. Estel Blevins (192 W. “ Im so glad Jim lived to see the purging of most of the idiots from Civil Air Patrol, the egomaniacs, control freaks, the frauds, liars and cheets that made it so hard for those of us who tried to do what was right to do. Jim was an inspiration to me, I can remember laughing with him every time the headsmans axe fell on someone who we both knew so well deserved it. Im back in CAP now in the squadron I formed 33 years ago. Be at peace my friend.

“ Right on Bob! I just learned about Jim's passing in the EAA magazine. Lynn and Jim became good friends when I joined CAP in your composite sqd . I enjoyed their company and learned a lot, especially during missions. It's good to see you're back with the Composite squadron at KTMB!

“ Jim was a great guy, and one of the best story tellers I have ever known. He had a love of life and family, and people in general. I send my deepest sympathies to Lynne and Todd, et al. Jim's poor health robbed you of the retirement you deserved, making his death a blessing. Remember his humor as I will. "Are we having fun yet?"
