What's On

AUTUMN - WINTER 2017

Credit: Balbir Singh Dance Company

Welcome to Kala Sangam

Where do I start?

It's been a huge pleasure pulling together this, my first programme for Kala Sangam. I hope you'll find it a season that is both faithful to the roots of this fantastic organisation, but also one that looks to its future.

Those of you who are used to coming to Kala Sangam to see the very best in South Asian arts will not be disappointed. As the world marks the 70th anniversary of partition and India's independence I'm delighted to welcome acclaimed Indian musician and patron of Kala Sangam Dr L. Subramaniam to Bradford for a Gala performance at the National Science and Media Museum's Pictureville cinema. We also are delighted to welcome back the visually stunning Kala Chethena Kathakali Company to our Ganges Theatre.

Looking forward I hope to welcome even more people from across Bradford's diverse communities into our building - to be a hub, a meeting place, a place where we can share great art. As we throw the doors open wide I hope this season also has an element for those looking for something different.

It might be the incredible art made by Marcus Levine, a chance to see some of the very best local and national talent at our Artists Takeover showcase, the blend of Indian and contemporary dance that both 2Faced Dance Company and Balbir Singh Dance Company offer, the chance to celebrate women and girls at this year's WOW Bradford - take your pick!

Joining the company has felt less like starting a new job and more like joining a new family - I look forward to welcoming you into it too.

Marcus Levine - Hockney a Portrait in Nails

Friday 8th September to Saturday 21st October 2017

Exhibition launch Friday 8th September at 7pm
at Kala Sangam

Free Entry

Marcus Levine, sculptor in the human physique, introduces an entirely unique approach to sculpture. His work features thousands of nails hammered by hand on wooden panels of varied heights and distances creating tone and textures without any tracing on to the board.

The majority of Levine's 'nail sculptures' are extraordinary representations of the human form. This exhibition focusses on an extraordinary human – David Hockney. To celebrate Hockney's 80th birthday this year, Levine created the world's first and largest coloured nail sculpture portrait which can be found in Bradford's Little Germany. Created as a companion to this piece, this exhibition shows the processes Levine went through to create the portrait alongside a number of his other signature works.

Join us for the launch of this exhibition on Friday 8th September or experience the work on your next visit to Kala Sangam.

Artists Takeover Scratch Night

Saturday 16th September 2017
at 7.30pm

Tickets - £5

Tickets available at www.kalasangam.org

Duration - 80mins (approx)

This summer Kala Sangam opened its doors to a group of exciting artists to create, play, rehearse and develop new work – we called it our Artists Takeover. Join us for an evening of new, exciting dance as three of these artists share their work in progress. The evening features a range of styles - cutting edge digital integrated dance by Lucie Lee, a new contemporary dance piece by Akshay Sharma and a Bharatanatyam Jathiswaram solo from Kamala Devam.

The evening also features a chance to hear from each of the artists about their experiences creating their work and ask those burning questions that you might have!

Kuchipudi Dance Drama Vyuhalakshmi Aavirbhavam

Saturday 23rd September 2017 at 3pm

Tickets - £10 standard, £6 concessions

Tickets available at www.kalasangam.org

Duration – 2hrs (including interval)

Official carrier

As part of the UK-India Year of Culture, Kala Sangam and the UK Telugu Association present a Prabhandha style dance drama. Based on an episode from the collection of poems "Sri Venkatachala Mahatya" written by Matrusree Tarigonda Vengamamba, Vyuhalakshmi Aavirbhavam tells the story of Lord Venkateswara and Goddess Lakshmi.

Featuring a cast of Gods and Goddesses, this traditional performance brings a classic Indian tale to life through live-music and vocals, colourful costumes and Indian dance.

2FACED DANCE COMPANY OUTLANDS

Thursday 28th September 2017 at 7.30pm

Tickets - £10 standard, £6 concession

Tickets available at www.kalasangam.org

Duration - 80 mins (including interval)

An extraordinary triple bill of contemporary dance by India and the UK's most up and coming female choreographers.

Outlands is a vivacious and gripping triple bill of contemporary dance that showcases and celebrates up and coming female choreographers commissioned as part of 2Faced Dance Company's The BENCH INDIA and UK programme. This unique one-off programme of work features Hemabharathy Palani, Roonita Mookerji and choreographer Emma-Jayne Park from the UK. These extraordinary female choreographers present an intimate evening of work to mark the deep cultural ties between India and the UK as part of UK-India Year of Culture 2017.

The BENCH is a training programme for female choreographers developed in response to concerns about the lack of equality within the dance sector. In 2016 2Faced Dance Company launched Year 2 of The BENCH UK and Year 1 of The BENCH India. The works presented in OUTLANDS has been commissioned by The BENCH. To find out more about The BENCH visit: www.the-bench.org

Outlands is supported by Arts Council England, British Council and Esmeé Fairbairn Foundation.

Book early to avoid disappointment as workshop spaces are limited.

Lilliane Gosling - The Ritual of Theyyam

Friday 27th October 2017 to 16th December 2017
Exhibition Launch Friday 27th October at 7pm
at Kala Sangam

Free Entry

Theyyam is an ancient neolithic ritual, which is still performed by people along the Malabar Coast of India. It is seen as a folk religion, with the worship of gods, goddesses, heroes, trees, animals, ancestors, spirits and more through dance, music and costumes, all maintained by individual families from the untouchables caste.

The Ritual of Theyyam is artist Lilliane Goslings personal response to what she sees as archetypes in the representation. The paintings are not direct representations of dances, but her take on an art form which is slowly dying out as the kavus or sacred groves where it is performed are destroyed by development.

Join us at Kala Sangam for the launch of the exhibition on Friday 27th October or come and enjoy the exhibition during working hours at Kala Sangam.

Kathakali

Friday 3rd November 2017

Makeup demonstration - 4pm – 5pm

Music and dance workshop - 5pm – 6pm

Performance - 7pm – 9pm

Tickets - £10 Standard, £6 concession

Tickets available at www.kalasangam.org

Kala Sangam is delighted to welcome the Kala Chethena Kathakali Company back to Bradford with another opportunity to see superb international artists from Kerala in India perform this legendary art form.

With a story similar to Snow White this performance is perfect for families. Featuring live music, Kathakali uses drama, dance, costumes and make-up to create one of the most visually exciting and powerful forms of theatre in the world.

If you're unfamiliar with Kathakali why not join us pre-performance for a rare opportunity to see a live makeup session as the performers bring their colourful characters to life, followed by a fun dance and music demonstration where families of all ages can learn the moves of Kathakali!

Allow your imagination to enter the enchanting world of Kathakali.
